Workout Routine

Training Volume:

5+ days per week

Explanation:

For this one we're going to train like we're in the armed forces (This is the routine we utilized for the men's character workout this week via Nick Fury). Coach Derek programmed us one similar for the Project X (Wolverine) Workout. This time we're moving up the ranks of the US Army/Marines. Be prepared to incorporate cardio, bodyweight movements, and more.

I'm also including mixed martial arts and parkour programming from Coach Derek and Felix for you to fit into your training as well. This can be used as a bonus for your off days, or added in on top of your training.

Use the Marines Physical Fitness Test provided if you'd like to see where you stand!

This workout is provided by Bodybuilding.com and was created and chosen as the best Army/Marine workout in a competition created amongst members.
